

All Kids Have the Potential to Learn and Thrive

The Key Elements for Learning and Development:

1. Positive Relationships - strong, trusting relationships are essential to learning and development

Coaches Can: Create opportunities to build connection with each player

2. Understand Context - experiences, environments, and cultures are defining influences on learning and development

Coaches Can: Listen and learn how players' experiences impact them

3. The Brain is Flexible - the brain can change by strong, supportive relationships and conditions they create

Coaches Can: See the potential in each player and promote continued learning opportunities

4. Each Kid is Unique - every kid learns their own way

Coaches Can: Discover what works best for each player
